

Performance Based Acquisition Training

July 13 – July 17, 2009

- Location Fish and Wildlife Service
500 Gold Avenue, SW
Albuquerque, New Mexico 87102
- Class time 8:30-4:30
- Price $698.00 per student (Commercial price: $800)
Cost includes: textbooks, training tools, and course completion certificates
- To Register Contact Jennifer Ashburn at BMRA, Inc., 703-691-0868
Email: Jennifer.Ashburn@BMRA.com
Click to complete Course Registration Form

Registrations will be accepted until June 26, 2009. BMRA requires a minimum of 13 students for this training, so bring your coworkers!

REGISTER NOW!!

Performance Based Acquisitions Course Description

As a result of the Government Performance Results Act (GPRA) and agency interest in obtaining improved contractor performance, agencies are increasing their use of Performance Based Acquisition (PBA) methods to ensure achievement of contractual objectives. This course includes the latest PBA guidance and samples issued by the Office of Federal Procurement Policy (OFPP). The PBA acquisition process is covered in detail to provide in-depth explanation of the benefits (and challenges) of PBA contracting. Through lecture, quizzes, and exercises, students will learn how PBA contracting relates to your program and procurement activities.

Learning Objectives

- Describe the history, purpose and benefits of PBA contracting.
- Explain Performance Work Statements (PWSs).
- Develop performance indicators, standards and acceptable quality levels.
- Define the roles of various participants in the PBA process.
- Discuss positive and negative incentives used in performance based contracting.
- Determine whether your specific agency requirements are appropriate for the PBA method.

Join the BMRA World of Education